

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The pecan crop of Southern Illinois this year is light.

The western drive may give Bulgaria another attack of hesitation.

There were some mighty good things in the last issue of the Harrodsburg Herald that had a strangely familiar sound.

The Boston meeting elected 80 men to be made 33rd degree Masons, one of them John W. Hodgen, of Evansville.

The Mayfield Elks have paid $2,750 for the First Presbyterian church, which will be converted into a lodge room and Elks Home.

If Lord Kitchener would shoot off guns more and his mouth less perhaps that "general offensive" would be forthcoming.

Lum Willhild, aged 52, said to be a Kentucky gambler, shot and killed Evelyn Helm, aged 52, who refused to marry him and then killed himself.

Three auto bandits blackjacked a man on a crowded street in New York and took from him a satchel containing $2,000 and escaped with their loot.

Gov. Capper, of Kansas, has been asked by a club of bachelors at Sitka to find wives for them. They should place an order out of Kansas.

Miss Lizzie May Graham, a pretty young teacher at Sweet Home, in Washington county, eloped with John Montgomery, one of her big boys, two years younger, and they will start a sweet home of their own.

The St. Louis Times says girls who wear ankle watches are fools, because the time pieces cannot be seen by the wearers. The argument loses its force when we remember where the ladies carry their money.

The mystery surrounding the murders of Marguerite Favre and J. C. Crowell, a prominent man of Greenwood, Miss., in an apartment house in the central part of Memphis, early Tuesday, remains unsolved.

Twenty thousand unwounded German prisoners and the dead and wounded lying in numbers of which there is no estimate is the toll of the first two days' drive of the British and French forces on the western front.

The Anglo-French Financial Commission and Eastern bankers have reached a virtual agreement on the details of the proposed half billion dollar credit loan to Great Britain and France.

The sophomores of the State University had a wholesale hair-cutting the night last week, littering several streets with the shorn locks of freshmen. An investigation has been ordered and there may be some expiations if the guilty parties are identified.

Rev. W. M. Britt, of Burnside, Ky., has left the Methodist church, giving as his reason a change of belief as to eternal punishment. But say, Bro. Britt, what is to be done with the man who stops a paper without paying up arrears?

Alphabetically the letter "D" is now to the front in the European mixup. Duma, Dumba and Dardanelles are constantly in one's thoughts and are likely to be for some time to come.—Harrodsburg Herald.

Don't forget Dvinsk, Dunkirk, Duke Nicholas, Dumdim bullets and Dernberg.

HIGH SCHOOL OUTCLASSSED

Heavier Team Defeats Them 18 to 0 in Opening Game.

BAD START MADE FOR SEASON

Plenty of Speed But Too Light in The Line—Lineup and Score.

The Montgomery Bell eleven defeated the Hopkinsville High School football team in the opening game Saturday at Mercer's park by the score of 18-0. Outweighed 15 lbs. to the man, the High School boys fought gamely but their little advantage of speed was not sufficient to overcome the odds against them.

Montgomery Bell lost the toss and kicked to Roberts at the north goal. The ball see-sawed in the center of the field for the first quarter of the play. An intercepted forward pass gave it to the visitors on the 35 yard line at the end of the quarter.

Line plunges, made possible by the weight of the opponents, carried the ball to the 6 yard line, where High held for the most exciting part of the game. On 4th down with 1 foot to go for a touch down, Hagar, the plunging full back, carried the pigskin in a terrific smash through left tackle for the first score of the game. Blair failed the goal. M. B. 6, H. S. 0.

At the beginning of the 3rd quarter, a long forward pass to right end, Lefler carried the ball 30 yards through unobstructed field for a touch down. No goal.

The third touch down was made at the middle of the last quarter. Roberts had dropped back to the 25 yard line to try a pass. The line was unable to hold, and Wilson, Braley and Lefler, hitting him at the same time, knocked the ball out of his hand. Herzig, the roly-poly center, fell up on an open field, and seeing an opportunity passed it from his prone position forward to Deadrick, who carried it unobstructed for a touch down. No goal. This ended the scoring.

The last touch down was thought illegal by some of the officials, but Referee Foster declared it a touch down, and was unable to reverse his decision.

The game as a whole was a poor article of football. Beefing, ragging and kicking by the visitors were the orders of the day, with a slight interspersing of rough stuff. However, Montgomery Bell knew football, and when they did play, put up a creditable game. Nuck Brown, of Vanderbilt, showed them that. Ezell and Doubleday deserve a little credit for sportmanship by contrast.

For the High School, Brown, Lackey, Roberts and Breathitt deserve mention. Although handicapped by a line that leaked like a sieve, they played football the entire time and fought to the last. Coach Mallory deserves just credit for the machine he has built up, which although practically new, played consistently and headily. The handicap is with the line, for whose lightness and greenness he is not responsible. The coach realizes his handicap, and is working to give them speed enough to offset this.

The lineup and score:

BIG ENROLLMENT OF UNIVERSITY

Many Foreign Countries Represented in The One Thousand Students.

State University, Sept. 27.—More than a thousand students have enrolled in the classes at State this session and from present prospects the school will enjoy the best year in its history. The Engineering and Mining Schools have the heaviest enrollment and an unusually large number of graduate students are doing special work in various departments. The students have come from all over the United States, many coming in from the West. There are students here from Japan, Portugal, the Philippines, China, Armenia, Russia and England. These facts show that the attendance is becoming more cosmopolitan each year and that good reports from the school are going all over the land.

Every day or so another Freshman appears with a bald head. In all nine have been humiliated by the loss of their pompadoured locks. Some of these were persuaded by the Seniors to cut their own hair while others were saved the trouble by the upper classmen.

The class in Journalism has over forty members and is doing excellent work. Its members publish a weekly paper, The Kentucky Kernel, and some work on the papers in the city.

Hopkinsville is well represented at State this year with W. T. Radford, Ernest Pursley, Logan Green, Wallace Ware, Raymond Rives, Edward Moseley, Thos. Underwood and Miss Lillian Gaines. Raymond Rives and Edward Moseley have become pledges to the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. Logan Green is a member of the Senior class in the Law Department and will graduate this year.

Drilling started in earnest on Monday afternoon and is considered by all of the students as the most unpleasant part of the school work. If the corps shows up well it is probable that it will get to go to Frankfort and be in the Inaugural parade of the new governor.

EDNA VERNON KILLED IN RACE

H. B. Foster's $2,000 Mare Ruptures Blood Vessel and Dies.

Edna Vernon, the fine six-year-old pacing mare of H. B. Foster, of this county, was killed in race at Pinkneyville, Ill., Friday, in which she had won the first two heats in a three out of five race. At the end of the second heat the mare appeared lame and began to stagger. A veterinarian took charge of her and found she had ruptured a blood vessel. She died that night at 9 o'clock.

Edna Vernon was sired by Argot Wilkes and her dam was Oakland Belle. She was a beautiful sorrel, with a record at Flora, Ill., this season of 2:15. She had frequently raced in the Matinee Club races here and had never been beaten. She started out this fall with trainer O. L. Allen and had raced at Sanders, Ky., Kingston, Tenn., Flora, Marion and Pinkneyville, Ill. She had been entered in seven races and won money every time, including first at Flora. Her earnings were $382 since leaving home, not counting $135 virtually won when she was killed. From Pinkneyville she was going to St. Louis and the Missouri circuit.

Mr. Foster bought the mare at M. Vernon, Ind., and refused $1,000 for her. He valued her at $2,000. He had been with her himself at other fairs, but had come home from Pinkneyville and learned of his heavy loss in a telegram from Mr.

CAPTURE 20,000 PRISONERS

German Lines Penetrated at Some Places for Depth of Two Miles and a Half.

London, Sept. 27.—Heavy and continuous attacks by the British and French have cost the Germans more than twenty thousand unwounded men taken prisoners and twenty miles of trenches in the west.

Souchez has been stormed and captured and an advance is reported north of Arras. The assaults began Saturday morning and at last accounts battles were raging furiously.

A German official statement forwarded from Berlin admits German reverses.

While the allies were advancing into German entrenchments, British battleships were battering away at German positions between Zeebrugge and Nieuport.

For several weeks there had been an almost incessant bombardment with big guns, which increased late last week in intensity, particularly in the sectors where infantry attacks took place. This prepared the way for the general assault.

The French, who have the most important gain to their credit, made their chief onset around Perthes, Beausejour and Suippes, in Champagne, where in December they made a considerable gain. This attack, backed by a tremendous artillery fire, gave them possession of more territory than they had retaken from the Germans since the latter dug themselves in after the battle of the Marne.

According to the French, the Germans were driven out of their trenches over a front of fifteen miles, varying in depth from two-thirds of a mile to two and a half miles. The French in this engagement captured twelve thousand prisoners.

The importance of this gain lies in the fact that every yard of ground taken in this region weakens the German position around Verdun, from which the Germans might be compelled to retire should the French make a further advance.

The French have regained trenches east of the "labyrinth" in the Arras district, which was the scene of much heavy fighting earlier in the year. There the Germans had built what they considered almost impregnable fortifications.

ED FRANKS TRIED HARD

But Somehow The G. O. P. Wouldn't Enthuse on A Cold Collar.

Hon. E. T. Franks, of Owensboro, the best stump speaker the Republicans have in Western Kentucky, spoke at the Court House yesterday in the interest of the State ticket. His speech was along the lines of those made by Morrow, Green and other Republican speakers. A large proportion of his auditors were Democrats who were in town to attend court. There was little enthusiasm shown by Republicans and the reception given the orator was in striking contrast to some of his ovations on previous occasions.

Mr. Wimpy, who owns what is known as the Cherry place, a few miles from St. Elmo, lost a large barn filled with fine tobacco, by fire Friday. The weed was being cured, when in some manner the tobacco became ignited and structure and contents were soon reduced to ashes. The barn was a new one and cost several hundred dollars. Sunday was a very strenuous, and a very interesting day at the church. In addition to the usual services, which were well attended, the church took a religious census of the city in the afternoon. Sixty people took part in this canvass and the work was completed in two hours. Plans are maturing for the great Sunday School Rally set for Oct. 10. Automobiles and auto-trucks will bring people from the extreme ends of the city to the church on that day. The new passenger truck of the asylum will leave at nine o'clock. The people along that route are invited to ride in the big car. The great feature of rally day will be a demonstration of men and boys on the streets of Hopkinsville. They will march from Virginia Park to the hotels and through the streets to the church, inviting men and boys to join them as they go.

Plans are also nearly completed for the revival meeting to begin on Oct. 10. A noted song leader will assist in this meeting. Full announcement will be made soon.

NEGRO HAS TRAVELED

George Watson Sees a Part of The World on a Transport and Has a Tough Experience.

George Watson, a Bardstown negro, has just returned from what is probably the most remarkable trip ever made by any negro in the country. George not only relates his wonderful experiences, but they are substantiated by post cards which he sent his mother from time to time, and which she had white friends to read to her.

George was sent from here to the penitentiary at Frankfort some years ago for shooting and wounding Smith Wilson, a negro of this place. When George was discharged from that institution he found his way up into British Columbia, sending a card from there to his mother. Not liking the climate there, George determined to return home. When passing through Cedar Rapids, Iowa, he was employed by an agent of the British government to go with a shipment of horses that were loaded upon the stock transport, Merry Catherine, and shipped to Liverpool, England. George going with them. When the stock reached its destination and was discharged, George was employed as a coal passer, upon the troop transport, Durba, which had been ordered to London, to take on board soldiers, bound for the Dardanelles. Among these soldiers was a regiment of Canadians. George says that half of them were Americans. One of them being Paul Hoskins, son of Mr. George Hoskins, of near Bardstown. Upon inquiry it was ascertained that Paul Hoskins had been away from home some time, but no one knew that he was with the Canadians in the Dardanelles, until a card from George brought the news. George says that there were three other boys from Kentucky with them, two from Owensboro, and one from Lexington, but he did not remember their names. The transport, Durba, took these troops to Alexandria, Egypt, where they disembarked, the transport continuing its way to Australia where more soldiers were taken on board and brought to the Dardanelles.

The transport was then ordered to Liverpool. On its homeward trip it was chased by a German submarine. The Durba, by frequent changes in its direction evaded the submarine, but several shots were fired at the Durba, one of which struck and knocked down one of her smoke stacks. Wireless calls for help were sent out by the Durba, but no aid came, finally it reached Liverpool in safety. In that city George saw a captured submarine in the dry docks, an admission fee of ten cents was charged to enter the vessel, the proceeds being applied to the hospital fund.

From Liverpool George was brought to Newport News, Va., in another stock transport, where a cargo of horses and mules were to be taken on. The agent wanted George to continue with him but George said no, he had enough, he wanted to come home, and that he "didn't like them submarines no how." From Newport News, George came back to Bardstown weary, footsore and dead broke.—Bardstown Standard.

Triplets in Todd.

Trip's, all boys, were born Friday night to Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Page, who reside near Guthrie, on the R. L. McMurry farm, but only one now lives, one dying Sunday and another Tuesday. Each weighed exactly five pounds. Dr. E. M. Frey, the attending physician, is of the opinion that the surviving little one will continue to live. As far back as known there has been neither triplets nor twins born in Mr. Page's family nor that of his wife, but Mr. Page is the youngest of a family of twenty-seven children. Besides the surviving triplet, Mr. and Mrs. Page are the parents of five children, three boys and two girls.—Elkton Times.

FISCAL COURT

In Knox County is Indicted For Crookedness.

Barbourville, Ky., Sept. 27.—Indictments were returned in the Knox Circuit Court Saturday against County Judge T. G. Hammons and seven magistrates as follows:

V. D. Jackson, Louis Monhollan, D. B. Detherage, B. D. Fortney, I. T. Mills, C. Cobb and Leroy Peace.

The charges are in connection with the handling of the proceeds of a recent $200,000 bond issue voted in Knox county for building of roads. Magistrate Esom McKeehan was the only member of the Fiscal Court to escape indictment. The indictments included from one to four counts in each instance. One of the charges against the magistrates is accepting checks for $25 each from a Terre Haute, Ind., firm to cover traveling expenses to that point to inspect machinery. Other charges are for voting alleged illegal claims in connection with the disbursement of road funds and for hiring their own teams in the construction of roads.

Assist Your Stomach

To Get Rid of the Poisonous Gases and Fermenting Food.

A good long fast will do this sometimes. A trip to the mountains. Tramping. Roughing it. Yes, very good remedies.

But are you going to avail yourself of either one of these remedies. No? Then the next best thing is to try a bottle of Peruna. Take it according to directions. You will have a natural appetite. All gas and fermentation in the stomach will disappear.

Read what Mrs. Emma Bell, Box 204, Fort Pierce, Florida, says: "I was taken suddenly with swelling of the stomach and bowels, and great distress. Very painful. Three doctors gave me no relief. Could not eat anything. Everything soured. I was starving to death. I began taking Peruna and was soon strong enough to do work. After taking five bottles I can truthfully say I am well. I gained twenty pounds."

Words Worth Remembering.

It is impossible to turn our eyes on any starlit vista of human history without being overwhelmed by the heart-breaking sense of the immense treasure of radiant human lives that have gone to its making, the innumerable dramatic careers now shrunk to a mere mention, the divinely passionate destinies once all wild dream and dancing blood, now naught but a name huddled with a thousand such in some dusty index seldom turned to, even by the scholar, and as unknown to the world at large as the moss-grown name on some sunken headstone in a country churchyard. . . . The snows of yesteryear! Who knows it, after all, they have so utterly vanished as they seem. Who can say but that there may be somewhere in the universe secret treasures where all that has ever been precious is precious still?—Richard Le Gallienne in "Vanishing Roads."

NIGHT RIDING CASES

SET FOR TRIAL OCT. 4

Thirty-five Men to Be Arraigned at the Term of Court at Madisonville.

Madisonville, Ky., Sept. 27.—The regular fall term of the Hopkins circuit court convened Monday morning with an unusually heavy docket for a fall term. Circuit Judge J. F. Gordon, who has presided over the courts in this district for the past fourteen years, goes out at the conclusion of this term, and will be succeeded by Judge Lee Gibson of this city. Commonwealth's Attorney John L. Gray of Smithland, who has served in this capacity for the past twenty-three years, also retires. J. Elliott Baker of Princeton is the democratic nominee for this office, which is equivalent to election.

Several important cases are to come up at the present term, among them about thirty-five men charged with "night riding" crimes. These cases are set for the seventh day of the term and more than 300 witnesses will be summoned by the commonwealth and defense. Most of the indictments are the result of the raid on a boarding house at Carbondale several months ago, when several people were injured. The house was riddled with bullets. Others are for whipping negroes and other raids.

Other cases that will attract considerable attention and in which the best legal talent of western Kentucky will take part is that of the commonwealth vs. Floyd Craynor, Jim Robinson, C. S. Bookwalter, Otto Hamilton and Glover Todd. Jim Robinson and Floyd Craynor are charged with the murder of Demmett Woodruff and Glover Huard at Hamby Station last spring, while Bookwalter, Hamilton and Todd are accused of being accessories before the fact. Demmett Woodruff was a wealthy merchant at Hamby Station and Huard was his clerk. The two men were assassinated one night in Woodruff's store, the murderers firing from ambush, and after the men were down shots were fired through their heads. As a result of the killing the above mentioned men were indicted. Craynor and Bookwalter have never been apprehended. Hamilton and Todd are out on bond, while Jim Robinson is in the county jail. Bookwalter is the president of a coal company in the county and very wealthy. He has never been heard from since the indictment. It is claimed. Many sensational reports regarding the assassination of the men have been circulated and the forthcoming trial will probably clear up the mystery. Rewards have been offered by the family, county and state for the conviction of the guilty parties.

To Users of Paint

ALWAYS bear in mind it is false economy to use CHEAP PAINT. The cost per gallon is not the only thing to be considered. It would be cheaper to pay $2.00 per gallon for a paint that will last eight or ten years than to pay $1.00 per gallon for a paint that won't last one year, causing you to repeat and pay for more paint as well as that much larger item, the cost of applying it.

The Best Is The Cheapest---

Because it lasts longer, and if you will buy a really first-class paint like the SHERWIN-WILLIAMS, while it will cost a little more per gallon, you will save money in the long run. SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINT costs more than cheap paint, because it is made of pure materials of the highest grade, but these pure materials make it worth more to you because they make the paint cover more surface and outwear two or three times over the so-called cheap paints which are made to sell, not to last. It is a plain proposition that SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINT covering 300 square feet, two coats, is cheaper at 50 per cent. higher price than a paint covering only 200 square feet, not to mention its far greater durability. No matter what you want to paint or varnish there is a SHERWIN-WILLIAMS product for that purpose, which will prove THE BEST YOU CAN USE.

Crocodile's Nest.

The nest of a crocodile is the interesting object lately described by W. Schultze of the biological laboratory at Manila. A peculiar mound on the shore of a lake near Taytay, Palawan, proved to be the nest of Crocodilus palustris, about five feet high and eight in diameter, and was made from a coarse, wiry grass that had been cleared from a space of five or six by nine or ten yards and had been laid mixed with sand. The eggs, about thirty in number, were in the center of this mound, arranged in several layers. They were oblong and had a very hard, porous shell, with porcelain luster, and a white band about the middle. In this moist nest of the Philippines, the incubation period was between seventeen or eighteen weeks.

Your Ideals and Visions.

No vision and no idea is worth a copper cent unless it is brought down to earth, patiently harnessed, painfully trained and set to work. There is a beautiful analogy that comes often to my mind. We conceive an idea, as a child is conceived, in a transport of joy; but after that there are long months of growth in the close dark warmth of the soul, to which every part of one's personality must contribute, and then there is the painful hour of travail when at last the idea is given to the world. It is a process that cannot be hurried nor borne without suffering. And the punishment of those who stop with the joy of conception, thinking they can skim the delight of life and avoid its pain, is the same in the intellectual and spiritual spheres as it is in the physical—barrenness, and finally a terrible sense of failure and of loneliness.—David Grayson in American Magazine.

ROAD BUILDING

GOOD ROADS AND MOISTURE

When Soil is Dry It Crumbles to Dust and When It Contains Too Much Water It Becomes Mud.

(By W. C. PALMER, North Dakota Experiment Station.)
One of the important factors in roadmaking is to control the moisture content of the soil in making up the roadbed. When the soil is dry it crumbles to dust and when it contains too much water it becomes mud. These are the two extremes to avoid. To make a hard roadbed the soil must contain a fair amount of moisture. The control of the moisture requires that the roadbed be higher in the middle and smooth so that water cannot stand on it but will run off. If water can stand on the road, ruts will result and when these are ground down dust forms and finally a loose roadbed results.

Keeping the roadbed well crowned and smooth will hold the moisture in it so that it will pack hard.

Weeds must also be kept several feet from the wheeltrack else they will draw the moisture from the roadbed and thus loosen it up; this is especially true in regions of moderate rainfall.

Trees should not be allowed to shade the road as this keeps it too moist on the surface after rains so that travel spoils the surface.

The making of a smooth roadbed requires that when the soil is put on, it be laid in layers and not in piles. When dumped in piles some places will be more packed than others and there will likely be a difference in the density, while if laid on in layers this will be avoided. Each layer should be harrowed, or better yet, disked and packed before the next one is laid down. In this way a good roadbed is secured from the first, while if the soil is just dumped on the road to be leveled and packed by the traffic over the road a good roadbed will never be secured.

The best tool for keeping the road well crowned and the surface smooth is the split-log drag. This tool should be used soon after a rain. The soil is then loose and easily moved. The drag moves but small amounts of soil and smears it on the roadbed in thin layers which is just what is wanted. It cuts off any projections and fills up any low places.

Where there is standing water the roadbed should be kept at least a foot above the water surface and the nature of the soil and the length of time that the water stands along the road will to a degree determine how high the roadbed must be above the water.

In dry-farming territory it is important to keep the weeds away from the roadbed and to keep the roadbed well crowned and smooth.

The Split-Log Drag.

The split-log drag has contributed more toward the economic maintenance of the public highways than any implement of modern usage. It does not require special acts of the legislature, bond issues or expensive educational campaigns to make it available as usually precedes construction work. A drag can be built or purchased for $20 and is easily operated by anyone who can drive a team.

Promote Rural Prosperity.
It is now generally admitted that good roads promote rural prosperity, even if they do cut down the profits of the men who hired out teams to pull motor cars out of mud holes.

Stunted Pigs.
Smaller pigs are kept stunted if left to run with the larger, stronger ones by being crowded from the feeding trough.

Worth $3 a Ton.
Wheat straw alone is worth $3 per ton as fertilizer. Its value is much more when used for bedding the cow.

Legumes and Lime.
The promotion of the growth of legumes is the one effect which, above all others, justifies the use of lime.

DAIRY FACTS

SERIOUS DISEASE OF CALVES

Diphtheria is Due to Specific Infection and May Appear in Animals Only Few Days Old.

(By DR. M. H. REYNOLDS, Minnesota Experiment Station.)

Calf diphtheria is due to a specific infection, and is always a serious matter. The trouble may appear with calves from three to five days old. Such calves refuse to drink milk or suck. They show more or less discharge of saliva from the mouth and inflamed patches inside the mouth. These patches gradually develop into ulcers covered with a dead, granular, or cheesy mass, which does not peel easily from the raw surface underneath. There is considerable rise of temperature and an offensive odor from the mouth. The trouble may easily extend to neighboring parts, to the lining membrane of the nose, and then there appears a yellowish discharge. In some cases the lining membrane of the digestive tract is similarly affected and then there is tendency to diarrhea. Little pigs show similar symptoms.

So far as now known the germ is a normal inhabitant of the intestines of healthy hogs and cattle and probably always virulent. When the disease is prevalent, the virus is, of course, scattered everywhere. Very young animals are most easily and most seriously affected, but cases have been reported in calves and pigs six or eight months old, and even occasionally in adult cattle and adult hogs.

The sores may be cleaned with two per cent creolin in warm water, and then treated with Lugol's solution, applied twice a day to the ulcers. Permanganate of potash may also be used; two ounces to each gallon of water; make up fresh each time, as the mixture cannot be kept from day to day. Either treatment should be given to valuable animals about twice a day for from four to six days.

Frequent and thorough disinfection of calf pens and calf yards is one of the first essentials in management.

DATA ON BREEDING FOR SEX

Expert of Maine Experiment Station Gives Result of Investigations He Has Made.

For ages untold the subject of the control of sex has been discussed and studied over, with very little progress except to discover that many theories do not work. At that, knowing what not to expect is a great deal. The most promising theory now relates to the influence on sex of the time of breeding. Of that Dr. Raymond Pearl of the Maine experiment station writes in a private letter which Hoard's Dairyman quotes:

"My own investigations on the relation of the time of service in the heat period itself, that is whether early or late, shows that it does have an effective influence on the control of sex. We are collecting extensive statistics on the matter by means of co-operation with breeders all over the country and the more data we get, the more clear does it become that in this matter, time of service related to the heat period is a significant factor."

FEED FOR MILK PRODUCTION

Common Cows Frequently Capable of Returning Larger Yield Than That Secured by Feeders.

(By T. L. HAECKER, Minnesota Experiment Station.)

Common cows are frequently capable of producing a much larger milk yield than the average feeder secures from the average common cow. For ten years back we have always had a number of cows with no dairy heredity in the dairy herd at the university farm. The average of 23 yearly records of these cows is 5,000 pounds of milk and 222 pounds of butter.

The value of 222 pounds of butter at 27 cents a pound is equal in round numbers to $60. The average common cow of this state produces a return yearly of but $46. She is, therefore, yielding $14 a year less than if given the same care and feed that the cows in the university herd received.

Lends Zest to Game.
The man who keeps accurate track of his cows' production always has a record to beat, and beating a former record lends zest to any game.

FAMOUS PREACHER

Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, of New York Is Bankrupt.

New York, Sept. 23.—Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, famous pastor of historic Plymouth Congregational church in Brooklyn, in his pulpit yesterday, confessed to a congregation that he had loved position too much, and that he had cherished his own interests, while he neglected the "sick, the poor, the friendless and the boys and girls of hungry minds."

Simply, slowly and briefly he confessed his failure and said he would soon start life anew—without property and without debt. His hearers swayed forward as he spoke. Men made no effort to cloak their feelings. Like the women beside them they permitted tears to flow over their cheeks, and when it was all over they thronged to the pulpit, wrung the hands of their beloved pastor and told him his sorrows were their sorrows, his woes their woes and his burdens their burdens also.

The debts of Dr. Hillis will amount to more than $100,000.

To add to his troubles Dr. Hillis has been sued for $50,000 for libel. The plaintiff in the action is Percy D. Hillis, a nephew of the clergyman, with whom for several years Dr. Hillis maintained intimate business relations as a result of Dr. Hillis' extensive financial interest in timber projects in the Northwestern States and Canada.

The nephew was recently referred to as one of the causes of his failure.

Several hundred physicians are attending. Dr. Nuckols told his hearers that half of the 70,000 blind persons in the United States might see today if sore eyes of babies had been given proper attention at the time of their birth. Dr. Nuckols, whose subject was "Preventive Medicine and Surgery," asserted that "practically all blindness can be traced to unspeakable immorality of our young men."

COOL SUMMER DRINKS

BEVERAGES THAT ARE ENJOYABLE ON THE HOT DAYS.

Hostess Here Should Make a Selection Delightful for Her Guests and Consequently of Natural Pleasure to Herself.

Recipes for cooling beverages are ever welcome at this season, when the hostess is eager to tempt her guests.

Claret Cup.—An old friend, good if properly made, but a very insipid compound if not. The following is an old English recipe for this delectable summer drink: Stand a bottle of claret and one of soda water on ice to cool. Put a tablespoonful of granulated sugar in a claret jug with a wine glass of brandy and blend thoroughly. Add three strips of lemon peel, cut into bits, and two strips of cucumber rind, also two sprigs of fresh green mint and a tablespoonful of maraschino. Add the claret and soda water, stir well together, ice and serve immediately.

Mint Punch.—Make a sirup by boiling one quart of water and two cupfuls of sugar 20 minutes. Bruise and separate a dozen sprigs of mint, cover with one and one-half cupfuls of boiling water and steep for 10 minutes. Then strain and add to the sirup. Add the juice of eight lemons, two oranges, a cupful of strawberry juice and set aside to cool. When ready to serve, add one pint of claret, a large piece of ice and enough water to dilute. Garnish with mint leaves and strawberries.

India Punch.—The juice of two oranges and two lemons, one cupful of water and one cupful of sugar; boil for 10 minutes. Add this to one pint of cold tea. Chill and serve, adding a few strawberries and cherries for garnishing.

Canton Punch.—Chop a pound of Canton ginger (the kind that comes in earthenware jars), add eight cupfuls of cold water and two cupfuls of sugar. Cover and let stand half an hour. Then gradually bring to the boiling point and boil for 15 minutes. Then add a cupful each of orange and lemon juice. When cool, strain and serve with crushed ice.

English Lemonade.—Pare two oranges and six lemons as thinly as possible and steep them in a quart of hot (not boiling) water for four hours. Boil one and a quarter pounds of granulated sugar in three pints of water. Combine the two liquids, and add the juice of six oranges, and a dozen lemons. Stir well, strain and ice.

Cretonne Handbags. There is a rage for things made of cretonne—not cushions and slips to cover the chairs and curtains, but things to wear.

One of the latest cretonne novelties is the cretonne handbag. It is not necessarily cheap, as the fabric from which it is made might make one think it is. For it is made and mounted in an expensive, as well as in a cheap, way. The expensive mount shows a silk lining and a substantial metal frame of good quality, and this sort of handbag can be appropriately carried with the most elaborate lingerie frock. The cheaper cretonne handbag is also pretty with lingerie frocks, especially at the seashore or in the country.

Chicken Broth With Rice.

Select a soft-meated fowl (milk-fed, if possible); disjoint and prepare for stewing. Cover with sufficient water; bring to the boil, and place in the fireless cooker for four hours or more, or simmer gently over a slow fire until tender, adding boiling water when necessary. Cook sufficient rice to thicken soup and for a pudding next day. Season the broth with salt, pepper and bay leaf.

The pieces of chicken may be lifted, drained, floured, seasoned and fried in butter, a little broth being reserved to add to the browned butter for the gravy. Garnish with parsley or cross.

Fragments of Cold Meat.

Fill an earthen dish with alternate layers of thinly sliced cold boiled potatoes and cold roast meat, well moistened with a brown sauce. Instead of a crust the dish is covered with a thick layer of boiled rice, which is dotted with bits of butter and sprinkled with cheese. It is browned in the oven, and just before serving the dish is decorated with triangles of toast and sprigs of parsley. This is a good way to serve a curry of fish or chicken.

To Clean Blankets.

To clean blankets or all wool garments shave up half a bar of any good laundry soap, add four tablespoonfuls of ammonia, put in the tub and half fill the tub with cold water. Enter the articles to be cleaned and let soak for hours. Then rinse in water containing four tablespoonfuls of ammonia. Do not wring. The articles will be just like new and will not shrink.

Potato Fritters.

Boil half a dozen potatoes, beat them and mix with three well-beaten eggs, a gill of milk, a little oiled butter. Mix well together and drop into boiling dripping. Fry a light brown, dish up and sprinkle with sugar. Serve hot.

Hard Sauce.

Cream well together one cupful of white sugar and two tablespoonfuls of butter. Add three drops of vanilla or a little sherry wine. The beaten white of an egg is often added to make it very foamy. Serve ice cold.

"Learning to Be Blind."

When this frenzied war is done and the blood-satiated participants gather in some tribunal to arrange the terms of peace, one prohibitive commandment should be written large on the first page of the treaty:

"Thou shalt not use destructive gases in thy warfare."

And the reason is that these gases, used for the first time in this war blind their victims.

When men shoulder muskets and march away under the flag of their country they expect the bullets and shells and saber strokes that may maim or kill. That is war, and they take their wounds or their escape in the spirit of the conflict. But when they are attacked by means of gases that leave them blind, it is not war, but brutality run to devilry. To have an arm or a leg shot away is the fortunes of battle, but to lose one's eyes is a culminating calamity unspeakable in its horrors. Maimed or halt, a man may still pursue his vocation, or quickly learn another—and the beauties of the world and the tenderness of home faces still are his. But to be blinded forever by the vicious action of an insidious, invisible foe, against which one can make no fight, that is the most devastating calamity that can befall a soldier.

Among the most pitiful scenes of this warfare those which depict the return of the helpless, gas-blinded men, doomed to sit in darkness the rest of their days.

This is a wanton cruelty against which civilization should rise up and protest. Of all the senses the eyesight is the most precious, and the deliberate purpose to destroy it was the invention of a fiend.

The treaty makers' first action should be to tear up all the formulas for the sight-destroying gas and make it against the laws of all nations ever to use it again.

There will be many lessons to learn after peace comes, but there will be nothing sadder, nothing more heart-breaking than the sight of those gas victims "learning to be blind."—Commercial Appeal.

A Real Folly.

A high school at Covington, Ky., finds it necessary to place a ban on the band, which holds to the leg, the ridiculous ankle watch adopted, as one of the follies of 1915, by that class of women whose stock in trade depends upon their ability to get as close to the ridiculous as possible. We hope the ban on the band will be extended to other high schools and girls' colleges. We would hate to see the tree inclined by any such bending of the twigs.

It is about time to tell the younger of our girls something of the estimation in which the world holds that part of the sex which resorts to ankle watches and rolled-down stockings. If thoughtful women, mothers, big sisters and just plain friends will get hold of the fools-in-the-making and drum a little common sense into their noodles, we shall probably be spared in the future, the necessity of lowering our estimation of a certain fool-hardy feminine class. The ankle watch cannot be seen by the lady who wears it, and it may spoil the looks of a fair limb for those who like to gaze at legs. —Commercial Appeal.

Georgetown, Ky., Sept. 27.—During a recent carnival held here two snakes disappeared, and were searched for futilely for several days. Busy at Home.

Some Kentucky editors are complaining about the few men from the sanctum who are chosen in Kentucky to public office and are pointing, in a contrasting fashion, to the great number who are honored with public office in other states. But look how much better Kentucky papers are than the papers of states where the editors have gone into office. The real editors do not want office and the real papers need their editors in the newspaper offices. —Owensboro Messenger.

Germany's Resources.

The German war loan raised September 21 is the largest financial operation in the world's history, said Dr. Karl Helfferich, secretary of the imperial treasurer, to the Associated Press.

With a total of $3,000,000,000 and some small sums not yet reported, the secretary said it exceeded Great Britain's last loan, which attracted much attention all over the world as an unprecedented piece of financing. The present loan, Dr. Helfferich continued, "enables the government to liquidate treasury bills taken over by the Reichsbank and other banks, provides Germany with money for the winter campaign and renders unnecessary the raising of another loan before March."

"England hitherto has raised $4,062,500,000 and Germany $6,250,000,000 in long loans, whereas England's war expenditures up to the present time are hardly less than Germany's and soon will exceed Germany's, for England is now spending nearly $25,000,000 daily against Germany's not much above $15,000,000. That means Germany is spending 25 cents per capita daily and England 55 cents. I doubt, therefore, whether England's financiers possess confidence that their resources will outlast ours."

Magistrate Killed.

REFUSED TO BE WEANED

Flock of Guineas Force a Plymouth Rock Hen to Quit Nest for Them.

Here's a guinea story that is true in every detail and its correctness is vouched for:

A Plymouth Rock hen in Hopkinsville was set on guinea eggs and hatched out a nice brood of them in June. She was put in a lot to herself and soon raised a dozen of them beyond the need of her further care and went to laying again. The guineas would go on the nest with her each day, although the hen made every effort to wean them, even going to the extent of pushing them aside and devouring the food put down for them. At last she became broody again and attempted to set. The guineas sat by and around her on her back, day and night, worrying her so that after three days she left the nest and again took charge of the brood, clucking to and feeding them as at first. She is still keeping this up, although the guineas are now half grown. They are just as foolish about her as she is about them. An attempt was made to separate the hen from them, but both were so miserable that there was nothing to do but let them together again. The hen has evidently made up her mind when she raises guineas to raise them.

Mexican bandits Friday attacked the village of Progreso, Texas, killing one American soldier, Private Henry W. Stubberfield, of Troop B, Twelfth cavalry, wounded Captain A. V. Two of the Mexicans are known to have been killed and several others are reported to have been wounded. Some of the Mexicans wore uniforms.

The Wide World Magazine for October is so full of adventure and thrills that in reading this number of the liveliest man's magazine published one is for the time being completely taken out of himself and experiences, or seems to, at least, more things of life than it would be possible for any one man to do in a lifetime. Of special interest is an unusual article, wonderfully illustrated with remarkable photographs, of "Whale Hunting with a Camera." Other particularly fine articles and stories include "The Mad Mule," having to do with an occurrence in the Montana silver mines; "Fighting a Giant Saw-Fish," in Florida waters; "An Accessory After the Fact," a thrilling murder story of Mexico; "The Buried Treasure," located in North Carolina; "The Eruption at Ambrim," with very remarkable photographs; and the first installment of a very important narrative which will run for some time to come in the magazine, "Down the Amazon from Source to Mouth." There are numerous other striking features, including "Odds and Ends," illustrated from photographs, from all parts of the world. The number is bountifully illustrated.

Urey Stands Pat.

Urey Woodson still expresses confidence that he will hold on as national committeeman. He says:

"If the 'General' thinks he has everything fixed, let him 'go to it.' I am not worrying over the matter. I am the national committeeman, and will be so recognized."

"The dear 'General' is nervous. He has a right to be, for he has not a leg to stand upon in his claim. I have received a letter quite similar to his from Mr. McCombs, notifying me that the papers in the case have duly arrived and have been filed for consideration."

Continuing Mr. Woodson said he had received a letter from Mr. Mitchell Palmer, member of the Democratic National committee from Pennsylvania, in which Mr. Palmer pledged his "voice and vote" to insure for Mr. Woodson the retention of his place on the national committee, and that he received many other letters from members of the national committee to the same effect.

ELIMINATE TUBERCULOSIS.

Denver Physician Says It Will Be Removed From Fatalities.

Philadelphia, Sept. 27.—Dr. Jefferson D. Gibson of Denver, Col., president of the American Association of Clinical Research, declared here today that within 10 years medical science probably will have succeeded in all but eliminating death from tuberculosis from vital statistics.

Dr. Gibson, who addressed the seventh annual meeting of the association, said that recent discoveries by which the presence of tubercular tendencies can be detected even before the germs appear in the sputum, together with a later and higher development of the x-ray will within a short time remove tuberculosis from the list of necessarily fatal diseases.

The Skirted Animal.

(Judge).

Half an inch, half an inch,
Half an inch shorter!
Whether the skirts are for Mother or daughter!
Briefer the dresses grow,
Fuller and ripples flow,
While whisking glimpses show
More than they oughter.

Forward the dress parade!
Is there a man dismayed?
No! From the sight displayed
None could be surrendered!

Theirs not to make remark;
Clergyman, Clubman, clerk—
Gaping from noon till dark
At the Four Hundred.

Short skirts to right of them!
Shorter to left of them!
Shortest in front of them,
Flaunted and flirited!

In hose of stripe and plaid,
Hued most exceeding glad,
Sporting in spots run mad,
Come the short-skirted!

Flashed all their ankles there;
Flashed as they turned in air!
What will women not dare?
(Though the exhibits show
Some of them blundered!)

All sorts and types of pegs—
Broomstick, piano legs;
Here and there fairy shapes,
Just built to walk on eggs,
Came by the hundred!

When can their glory fade?
Oh, the wild show they made!
All the world wondered,
Grand dame and demoiselle,
Shop girl and Bowery belle—
Four Hundred? H'm—oh, well,
Any old hundred!
